MAPLE PRODUCTS on sale all year

MAPLE SYRUP: use it on pancakes, french toast, pour it on ice cream, sweeten yogurt, and milkshakes.

Canada # 1 Light Maple syrup is the lightest and mildest flavoured maple syrup we have. We use most of it for maple sugar candy and maple butter.

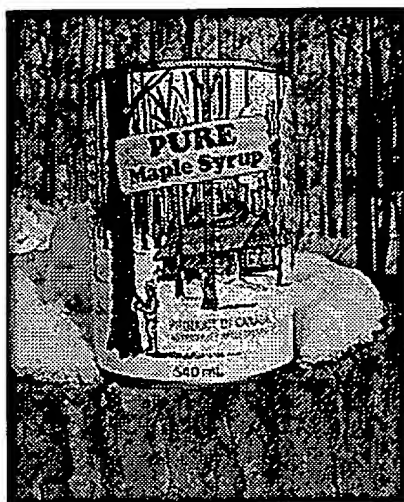

Canada # 1 Medium maple syrup is what we recommend for general use on pancakes, french toast, ice cream, yogurt, etc. This is our most popular grade of maple syrup and is what we will ship unless you ask for another grade.

A Variety of Syrup Containers

Canada # 2 Amber maple syrup is usually made later in the season, a bit darker and stronger flavoured it is often considered a cooking grade of maple syrup. We have this available in 540 ml tins.

Canada # 3 Dark maple syrup is made at the very end of the season. Most maple producers including ourselves do not like it, however a few people do. We don't recommend it, but do have some available in 540 ml tins. Please contact us if you want some.

540 ml can

We sell our maple syrup in a variety of glass, plastic and tin containers. We also have 540 ml cans which are very strong and ideal for shipping. The cans are not quite as fancy as some of the other containers, but they are convenient as you can purchase a few cans, only refrigerate the one that you open, and store the rest in a cupboard. We have Canada # 1 Medium, # 2 Amber and # 3 Dark in these cans.

MAPLE BUTTER - made with only maple syrup, it spreads like butter and it is great on toast, bagels, as a filling for pastries, or icing on a cake.

MAPLE JELLY: made with maple syrup and a jelling agent, not too sweet, but a nice maple flavour for your toast, excellent with cheddar cheese.

MAPLE SUGAR CANDY: made from 100% pure maple syrup which is boiled down, cooled, stirred and poured into moulds.

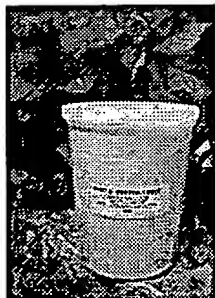

MAPLE SUGAR CANDY: made from 100% pure maple syrup which is boiled down, cooled, stirred and poured into moulds.

GRANULATED MAPLE SUGAR: made from pure maple sugar that is boiled longer than the maple sugar candy. Nearly all the moisture is removed. It can be sprinkled on cereal, toast, apple crisp, used in baking or in your coffee.

MAPLE LOLLIPOPS: Made with maple syrup, corn syrup and white sugar.

MAPLE SYRUP MUSTARD: a high quality hot mustard, made by Brock Foods Int'l using maple syrup from our farm.

ORANGE & MAPLE SYRUP MARMALADE: a high quality marmalade made with Seville oranges and maple syrup from our farm. Also made by Brock Foods Int'l.

MAPLE COTTON CANDY: visit us and taste some. Now packaged for longer shelf life, suitable to mail. One (1) litre plastic tub of maple cotton candy $2.25 Cnd ($1.50US) plus shipping. This is not on our order form as shipping cost is not standard due to size. Contact us for shipping costs.

Please let us know if there is some maple product you want, but do not see listed here. We will try to help.

BASIC-ABSTRACT:

NOVELTY - The packing method comprising the steps of: (a) conveying the articles toward an assembly area; (b) grouping the articles and weighing them until a predetermine group weight of the group is achieved; (c) conveying the weighed group of articles to a sizing area; (d) altering the size of the weighed group of articles at the sizing area; (c) conveying the weighed and sized group of articles to a packaging area; and (f) packaging the weighed and sized group of articles in a container at the packaging area. The step (a) and step (c) are performed under the influence of negative air pressure.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION - Step (b) may also be performed under the influence of negative pressure. The step (d) is performed by compacting the weighed group of articles in a chamber, and preferably by mechanically compacting the weighed group or article.

USE - For packaging natural fluffy bite size cotton candy balls (Claimed), but may be used for packaging other difficult to handle items such as panty hose.

ADVANTAGE - The appearance of the package exterior is good, and shelf life of the packaged bite size candy balls is longer.

DESCRIPTION OF DRAWING(S) - The figure shows a side view of the packaging machine.

BASIC-ABSTRACT:

NOVELTY - A procedure for packaging candy floss made by traditional means in a laboratory atmosphere with a humidity level below 20 per cent uses a coextruded polypropylene bag 50 microns thick which is evacuated of air and then injected with one litre of nitrogen with a humidity level of no more than 5 ppm before the bag is sealed.

USE - Packaging portions of candy floss of some 50 g in weight and 3500 cc in volume.

ADVANTAGE - The procedure allows candy floss to be sold in bags.

(54) 【発明の名称】 袋詰め綿菓子、綿菓子の風味付け方法及び綿菓子包装装置

(57) 【要約】

【課題】 綿菓子に果実等の風味を付加する。

【解決手段】 綿菓子包装装置1は、別途設置されている綿菓子製造装置によって製造され、所定の大きさに切断された綿菓子3を搬送する綿菓子搬送コンベア5と、この綿菓子搬送コンベア5の先に設けられ、プラスチックフィルムシート7を筒状に巻くと共に筒状にシールし、さらに、内部に綿菓子3を収納した状態で送り方向の前後をシールして綿菓子3を袋詰め状態とする製袋部9と、この製袋部9に対して、プラスチックフィルムシート7を搬送するためのシート搬送機構11と、このシート搬送機構11によって、プラスチックフィルムロール13から引き出されて搬送される途中にあるプラスチックフィルムシート7の表面(袋にしたときの内面)に対して接触する綿等の香料塗布部材15と、この香料塗布部材15に対して、点滴の要領で香料を供給する香料供給部材17とを備えている。

【0012】この本発明の綿菓子包装装置によれば、別途設置されている綿菓子製造装置で製造された綿菓子は所定の大きさに切断され、綿菓子搬送手段によって製袋手段へと搬送される。また、この製袋手段へは、綿菓子搬送手段によって搬送されてきた綿菓子を包装して袋詰め状態とするための包装材が、包装材搬送手段によって搬送され、綿菓子をつずつ袋詰め状態とする。このとき、本発明の綿菓子包装装置では、製袋手段に搬送される途中にある包装材の内面側に、香料塗布手段によって香料が塗布されるので、袋詰め状態とされた綿菓子に対して、袋の内面に塗布されている香料の風味が移り、上述した様に風味の高い新規で付加価値の高い綿菓子を提供することができる。

【発明の実施の形態】以下、本発明の実施の形態について、図面を参照しつつ説明する。図1は、実施の形態としての綿菓子包装装置1の概略構成を示すものである。この綿菓子包装装置1は、別途設置されている綿菓子製造装置によって製造され、所定の大きさに切断された綿菓子3を搬送する綿菓子搬送コンベア5と、この綿菓子搬送コンベア5の先に設けられ、プラスチックフィルムシート7を筒状に巻くと共に筒状にシールし、さらに、内部に綿菓子3を収納した状態で送り方向の前後をシールして綿菓子3を袋詰め状態とする製袋部9と、この製袋部9に対して、プラスチックフィルムシート7を搬送するためのシート搬送機構11と、このシート搬送機構11によって、プラスチックフィルムロール13の近傍に設けられ、プラスチックフィルムロール13から引き出されて搬送される途中にあるプラスチックフィルムシート7の表面（袋にしたときの内面）に対して接触する綿等の香料塗布部材15と、この香料塗布部材15に対して、点滴の要領で香料を供給する香料供給部材17とを備えている。

【0014】この綿菓子包装装置1によれば、綿菓子搬送コンベア5によって製袋部9へと搬送されてきた綿菓子3は、製袋部9にて、内面に香料を塗布されたプラスチックフィルムシート7によって袋詰めされ、袋詰め綿菓子19として排出される。そして、この綿菓子包装装置1により包装された袋詰め綿菓子19内の綿菓子3には、袋21の内面に塗布されている香料の風味が移り、

袋21を開けたとき、香料の香りがする。また、この綿菓子3を食べると、袋21の内面に塗布されている香料の風味がして、例えば、ストロベリー風味の香料を塗布した場合には、ストロベリー味の綿菓子となる。なお、ここで、香料塗布部材15によってプラスチックフィルムシート7の内面側に塗布される香料の量は、極わずかとされており、製袋部9に搬送されてきたときに、袋21の内面がべた付かない程度に塗布されている。

【0015】この綿菓子包装装置1を用いて、香料として高田香料製の「D-93ストロベリーエッセンス（商品名）」をプラスチックフィルムシート7の表面に極わずかに塗布して製造した袋詰め綿菓子19は、袋を開けるとほのかにストロベリーの香りがすると共に、食べたときにも、ほのかにストロベリーの味がするものであった。また、製造後、1ヶ月以上経過しても、袋を開けたときの香りや食べたときの味や綿菓子自体の形態には変化がなく、ほのかにストロベリーの風味を有しており、綿菓子に求められる長期に渡る品質の保持においても問題のないものであった。

【0016】以上、本発明の実施の形態について説明したが、本発明は上述した実施の形態に限られることなく、その要旨を逸脱しない範囲内において、さらに種々の態様にて実施することができる。例えば、香料を綿菓子包装材の内面に塗布するに当たってスプレーを用いてこれを塗布する様にしてもよい。

【0017】

【発明の効果】以上説明した様に、本発明によれば、綿菓子に果実等の風味を付加することができ、新規で付加価値の高い綿菓子を提供することができる。

【図1】 実施の形態の綿菓子包装装置の概略構成を示す正面図である。

A Minneapolis judge approved a settlement awarding damages ranging from $80 to $75,000 to people sickened last summer by Salmonella-contaminated ice cream, according to news reports.

Hennepin County District Judge Andrew Danielson approved the settlement in a class action against Schwan's Sales Enterprises. The action was filed after an estimated 32,000 persons fell ill last fall in what is considered one of the "largest class-action food poisoning cases in U.S. history. The Food and Drug Administration determined that the ice cream became tainted after ice cream mix was transported to Schwan's Marshall, Minn. plant in a tanker that previously carried raw eggs.

A Schwan spokesman said that more than 13,000 people have filed claims so far. According to plaintiff attorney Mark Reinhardt, there is a Sept. 15 deadline for those wishing to either participate in the settlement or file claims, and anyone missing the deadline is prohibited from filing any future action.

Gatorade Drink Recalled after Glass Fragments Detected by Consumers
Some 16-oz. glass bottles of Gatorade Thirst Quencher are being recalled after customers reported finding glass fragments in the bottles, according to news wire reports.

The bottles, distributed in Alaska, California, Idaho, Montana and Washington state, were bottled at Gatorade's Oakland, Calif., plant. Scott Lewis, spokesman for the California Department of Health Services, said that some bottles were apparently broken during the manufacturing process and glass pieces fell into other bottles. Although no serious injuries have been reported, consumers are being urged by Gatorade officials to return certain coded bottles.

Involved in the recall were lemon ice, grape or tropical fruit flavors (Code 019D5); fruit punch, citrus cooler or lemon ice (020D5); lemon lime (021D5); tropical fruit (004E5); and fruit punch or orange (005E). Each code, followed by the letters A, B, C, D, F or H, is printed on the side of the bottle cap, the company added.

Potential Toxin and Detected Bacterial Contamination Prompt Food Recalls

Tostitos brand Restaurant Style Salsa Con Queso with the "potential to support the outgrowth of Clostridium botulinum toxin has been recalled by Frito-Lay, Inc., Plano, Texas, according to a recent FDA enforcement report.

The Foods Class I recall involved 10 greater than oz. glass jars of the cheese dip manufactured by Mid-America Dairymen, Inc., Schulenburg, Texas. Recall of the product, distributed in Oregon, is complete, FDA reported.

Contamination with Listeria monocytogenes prompted the Class I recall of clear plastic packages of Sliced Norwegian Smoked Salmon. Initiated by Homarus, Inc., Mt. Kisco, N.Y., the recall involved five cases of product manufactured by Intersea Fisheries, Ltd., Teaneck, N.J., and distributed in Virginia. FDA noted that the recall is complete.

Various Contaminants Led to Candy, Spice, Bean and Milk Recalls

Contamination with undeclared FD&C Yellow No. 5 prompted the recall of cotton candy labeled in part "Fat Free Fluffy Stuff Cotton Candy packaged in 1-ounce and two-ounce plastic bags, FDA reported. Candy manufacturer O'Tec, Inc., Hyattsville, Md., initiated the recall, which involved 800 cases of candy that were distributed nationwide. FDA said the recall is ongoing.

Nearly 12,000 pounds of ground nutmeg have been recalled due to aflatoxin contamination, FDA reported. Ground Nutmeg packaged under the Tone's Heart-Loc and Rykoff Sexton Connoisseur labels was recalled by Tone Brothers, Inc., Ankeny, Iowa.

Manufactured by Tone Brothers, Inc., Des Moines, Iowa, the ground nutmeg was packaged in 16- and 70-oz. packages. Recall of the spice, distributed nationwide, is complete, FDA said.

Contamination with spoilage organisms putrefactive anaerobes and flat sour spores led to the Class III recall of Lehmann Farms Marinated Green Beans by the manufacturer, Mr. Berns & Company, Lehmann Farms, Spring Park, Minn. The beans were distributed in Colorado, Illinois, Minnesota and Virginia. Recall of over 60 cases of beans, packaged in 16-oz. glass jars, is complete, FDA noted.

Milk contaminated with Bacillus cereus, causing a bitter "off flavor making it "unfit for food, has been recalled, FDA reported in a Class III report. Aseptically packed whole milk and 2% milk in "Tetra Pak cartons were recalled by the manufacturer, Real Fresh, Inc., Visalia, Calif. Recall of over 4,000 cases of milk, distributed in California, Hawaii, Oregon and Washington state, is ongoing, the agency said.

Rodent, Metal, Plastic and Sand Fragments Detected in Foods

Green Giant Cut Leaf Spinach packaged in one-pound plastic bags that was found to contain "parts of a rodent has been recalled by The Pillsbury Company, Minneapolis, Minn., FDA said in a Class III report.

Manufactured by Del Mar Food Products Corporation, Watsonville, Calif., the spinach was distributed in Colorado, Louisiana, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas. Recall of 650 cases is ongoing.

Stilwell brands frozen fruit cobblers in two-pound containers were recalled due to contamination with small metal pieces. The Class III recall involved nearly 40,000 cases of product distributed nationwide. Initiated by the manufacturer, Stilwell Foods, Inc., Stilwell, Okla., the recall is ongoing.

Various flavors of fat-free fruit bars found to be contaminated with pieces of plastic have been recalled by the manufacturer, Fleetwood Snacks, Inc., Fleetwood, Pa.

Involved in the Class III recall were A Whale of a Snack fat free blueberry, apple, fig and strawberry fruit bars, FDA reported. Recall of the snacks, distributed nationwide, is ongoing.

Contamination with sand led to the recall of Mojo Criola, a Spanish marinating sauce, FDA said in a Class III report. Distributed in 24-oz. glass bottles in Florida, the sauce was manufactured by La Lechonera Products, Inc., Miami, Fla. Initiated by the manufacturer, recall of the product is complete, FDA noted.

UK CLUB'S TREE RAKES IN THE DOUGH

TEXT:

What started as a friendly rivalry to raise money for Children's Medical Center via the Sugarplum Festival of Trees gala has generated more than $20,000 during the last four years.

The Festival of Trees is part of the 28th annual Sugarplum project scheduled this weekend that organizers hope will match last year's proceeds of $175,000.

In 1994 the University of Kentucky's alumni club, headed by Anna and Ron Hull of Lutheran Church Road, Jefferson Twp., decorated a UK tree that raised $625 for the gala as well as winning Best of Show among the trees decorated by colleges and celebrity TV and radio groups.

It was topped only by Indiana University's tree that brought $1,200.

"Thanks to our participation in a community project - which was the tree decoration - our Greater Dayton UK Club won the Sweepstakes Award, which is UK alumni's highest award among the 54 alumni clubs," Anna Hull said.

"We also won, for the third year in a row, the large out-of-state award given by the alumni group, competing against such cities as Nashville, Cincinnati, Atlanta and Washington, D.C."

This year's UK tree will have a basketball autographed by Coach Rick Pitino plus two arena tickets, a football autographed by Coach Bill Curry and two sideline tickets, a package deal for four to Turfway race club with dinner, a round of golf for two and a golf cart at both Heatherwoode and Jamaica Run golf clubs, a gift certificate from Applebee's and a variety of UK-related items including more than 50 handmade ornaments.

The Indiana University tree will have a basketball signed by Coach Bobby Knight as well as basketball tickets; Notre Dame's tree has a football signed by Lou Holtz and football tickets; and Penn State's tree has ornaments autographed by alumni who went on to play professional sports.

Co-chairing the collegiate/celebrities trees is Barb Peck of Cortina Drive, Miami Twp., whose son, Bryan, is a sophomore at UK; and Sherry Stipe of Bellbrook, an Indiana University alumna.

The Festival of Trees Gala will be from 6:30 to midnight Friday at the Dayton Convention Center and includes dinner, dancing and a variety of other activities. Tickets are $50 per person.

For reservations or more information, call 226-8405.

Saturday's TWIG Gift Shoppe, which will include hand-crafted treasures, antiques and baked items, will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is $4 for adults and $2.50 for children.

The luncheon and fashion show will be at noon Saturday. The $25 ticket includes entry into the shopping area.

For reservations, call 226-8405.

Co-chairing the luncheon and fashion show are Chris House of Soldiers Home Road in Miami Twp. and Barb Murtaugh of Springboro.

Sugarplum will reopen from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, when admission will be $3 for adults and $1 for children.

The Teddy Bear Tea will be at 1 p.m. The $5 cost includes entry into the shopping area. Youngsters can take their favorite teddy bear. For reservations, call 226-8405.

Rotary event planned

The Moraine Rotary Club will have its 11th annual Night at the Races/Monte Carlo from 7 to 11:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 18, at the Mandalay Banquet Center, 2700 E. River Road.

The theme will be ``Viva Las Vegas.''

All proceeds will benefit the club's community service projects and student scholarship fund.

Tickets are $30 per person.

For more information or tickets, call Rotary President Elmer Campbell at 299-9143.

Nominations sought

The Moraine Rotary Club is seeking nominations for its Service-Above-Self Award, which recognizes an individual who has gone beyond the expected in the performance of their chosen profession.

The nominee should be either a Moraine resident, be employed in the city or perform an extraordinary act or service within the city.

The nomination can be for a single significant act that merits the award, for the importance of the duties performed, the impact on the community, the length of service or the number of people affected by the service.

Those making a nomination should write a short description of the individual's accomplishments. The full name of the nominee and the nominator should be included on the sheet.

Deadline for nominations is Nov. 18.

Send letters of nomination to C. Douglas Lyon, Director-Vocational Services, Moraine Rotary Club, in care of Cooper Tire and Rubber Co., 3601 Dryden Road, Moraine 45439.

Dance tickets on sale

The Farmersville Rotary Club will sponsor a barn dance from 8 to 11 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 18, at the D.R. Coffman Jr. farm, 12201 Farmersville-West Carrollton Road in Jackson Twp.

Presale tickets, available from Rotarians or at Star Bank in Farmersville, are $3 per person or $12 per family. Tickets at the door will be $4 for persons 9 and older and $15 for a family of four or more.

Dancers can receive a free beverage and popcorn by bringing in over-the-counter drugs, such as aspirin, Motrin, Tylenol, Bufferin, etc. as well as Band-Aids.

All of these supplies will be sent to Dr. Margo Young, a Farmersville Rotarian, who left last month to volunteer in Guatemala. Profits from the dance will go to the International Rotary Foundation.

Sheds light on show

The Yellow Brick Road has led Tom Sellars back to the Dayton area with The Wizard of Oz on Ice, which begins tonight at Hara Arena for five nights.

Sellars, a 1988 graduate of West Carrollton High School, is an assistant electrician with the show.

Sellars, son of Gary and Mary Ellen Sellars of Schumaker Court in Miami Twp., attended Middle Tennessee State University, then became the sound engineer for the Van Dells singing group.

"In The Wizard of Oz on Ice he calls the lighting cues for the 'follow' spots," his mother said.

"The show had its grand opening in September in St. Louis, but he joined the group in May and they worked together to put the numbers together until the opening in September."

While in high school, Sellars earned the Eagle Award, Boy Scouting's highest honor. He began doing soundboard work at Normandy United Methodist Church and followed with sound work with Theatre Under the Stars.

ABSTRACT: High-barrier bags developed by O'Tec of the US have enabled a significant extension of the shelf-life of the candy-floss -type confectionery product Fluffy Stuff Cotton Candy Gourmet Bites. The new bags incorporate a 15-micron metallised two-side-treated OPP film with a low-density polyethylene sealant layer. The film, Torayfan PC-1, is said to have outstanding seal integrity and laminating characteristics, and to run well on vertical form/fill/seal machines. The bags are so effective at excluding moisture that the product now has a 6-month shelf-life.

O'Tec has moved to new packaging for its Fluffy Stuff Gourmet Bites (Cotton Candy). Toray Plastics and CP Converters helped develop the new high barrier bags using Torayfan PC-1, a metallized, two-side-treated OPP film with an MVTR of .01 and outstanding seal integrity and laminating properties. The new packaging provides a six month shelf life which has enabled O'Tec to expand its market.

A "WIZARD OF OZ" YOU'VE NEVER SEEN THE MUSICAL PUTS ON ICE
SKATES FOR A SOPHISTICATED, BRILLIANT PRODUCTION

TEXT:

I took my grandchildren up to Sacramento's ARCO Arena to see impresario Kenneth Feld's "The Wizard of Oz on Ice," an imaginative, innovative and beautifully produced bit of theatrical entertainment which opens an eight-show, five-day run at the Cow Palace Wednesday.

Jake and Evvie thought the show was wonderful. They loved the tornado scene and the Cowardly Lion but were distressed that ol' gramps was too stingy to lay out $8 for a puff of cotton candy set in a plastic "Wizard of Oz souvenir bucket."

Among Feld Entertainment's productions, besides "The Wizard" and the eight touring units of "Walt Disney's World on Ice," are the two Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus units, the "P.T. Barnum World of Wonderment and the Bizarre," the Las Vegas show "Siegfried & Roy," a couple of Broadway-bound shows, TV specials and a number of other presentations.

In spreading out his half-billion dollar entertainment empire, Feld is knocking over boundaries - thus the most impressive "Broadway musical" style of "The Wizard of Oz on Ice." This is not a cheapo bit of fluff-on-ice with video screens and film clips; it is a remarkable, sophisticated, original production concept for this book and musical film favorite.

The success and the effectiveness of the show stem from Feld's desire, as he said in a commentary, "to do a whole new production. . . . I did not want to just redo the 1939 film. On ice," he explained, " "The Wizard of Oz ' can have more movement than on the screen," and so he called in as choreographer and creative consultant Olympic gold medalist Robin Cousins, who, among other splendid numbers, choreographed Dorothy's (Jeri Campbell) charming solo skating bit for the "Over the Rainbow" sequence - sung, distinctively, by Lurnea Wilkerson on the production's prerecorded tape.

All voices (and sound effects) other than Wilkerson's "Dorothy" lines are by Bobby McFerrin - who is Toto barking, the Wizard exhorting, the squeaky Munchkins, Scarecrow, Tin Man, both Witches and all the others. McFerrin's "Wizard" and "Cowardly Lion" voice-overs are especially remarkable - I loved his (The Wizard's) critique of the lion - mimed and skated by Mark Richard Farrington - "You bilious bale of bovine fodder." Sounds like a William Safire line for the late veep Spiro Agnew.

From the "Farm in Kansas" scene with Auntie Em, Uncle Henry and Hunk, Zeke and Hickory; Miss Gulch and Dorothy's little dog Toto, to Professor Marvel's Caravan, with its ice-skating horse, to the tornado scene and all that lies ahead, this production is continuously fascinating and entertaining.

As the wind blows, lights flash, tiny wind-borne water drops flow through the arena, thunder crashes and Uncle Henry's farmhouse and outhouse seem to rise from the ice, there is considerable audio-visual bombast.

This production is colorful, active and brilliant in staging; the story line, narration, music (most familiar, some not), costumes and skating are suitable, splendid - always in keeping with Feld's concept of a Broadway-style production that understands and uses the unique "stage" of an ice arena.

The Tin Man-oilcan scene is wonderfully turned, as is the Straw Man's anguished remark, "I can't even scare a crow." The Munchkins aren't dwarfs, but as director Jerry Bilik and costume designer Frank Krenz decided, the Munchkins, all 33 of them, "could each have different, outrageously colorful and funny costumes." And so they do.

An inserted "Poppies and Snowflakes" scene features colorful cartoonish poppies and a romantic dancing sequence by the "Crystal Pair," Olga Niezvestnaya-Hunter and Serguei Zaitsev. All the film's other songs, by Harold Arlen and Yip Harburg (including "The Jitterbug," a last-cut from the movie), are included, and each proves a vehicle for spectacular staging and ice dancing.

With witches good and evil flying through the air, along with ascending balloon, and Toto hippity-hopping around the ice, and castles and forests appearing and disappearing, this "Wizard of Oz" is something else, again.

Though Jake and Evvie never got their cotton candy and settled for an ice cream bar (guess whose idea) they did, even before the intermission, agree that "This is the best of all the ice-skating shows you've taken us to."

Two ice cream-sticky thumbs up.

Old folks will like it too.

"The Wizard of Oz on Ice" plays the Cow Palace Wednesday through Friday at 7:30 p.m.; Saturday at noon, 3:30 and 7:30 p.m.; Sunday at 1 and 5 p.m. Tickets are available (service charge free) at the Cow Palace Box Office. Otherwise, you can get them at BASS outlets. Charge by phone: (510) 762-BASS.
